

Please do not mess with the No Call law. It was the best thing that happened to our dinner hour- No interruptions. It's bad enough that charities and politicians can still call. I find it hard to believe that anyone wants their phone ringing all the time with telemarketers. Please don't change the law!